WHO WE ARE – Australian Antarctic Division (AAD)

The AAD is part of the Commonwealth Department of Climate Change, Energy, the Environment and Water (DCCEEW). As primary agency for Australia's Antarctic Program (AAP), the AAD is responsible for achieving the Australian Government's Antarctic goals to:

- maintain the Antarctic Treaty System and enhance Australia's influence within it
- protect the Antarctic environment
- understand the role of Antarctica in the global climate system
- undertake scientific work of practical, economic and national significance.

THE JOB

As a Carpenter you will maintain station buildings and field huts. This includes carpentry, painting, plastering, tiling, floor covering, glazing and steel erection work. Carpenters are also involved in the mixing and pouring of concrete foundations. They also manage the safe operation of the carpenters' workshop and station hobby hut.

Carpenters work in either summer or winter jobs, and shorter winters may also be an option. Carpenters work at all three Antarctic stations as well as Macquarie Island.

You should apply for this role if you have the appropriate knowledge, skills and experience and an interest in the challenge of living and working in a small community in a remote environment. Applicants will be assessed and if successful placed in a role for training and deployment, or a merit pool that will be used for future seasons.

Key duties will include, but are not limited to:

As a Carpenter you will be required to undertake some or all of the following:

- Perform building and services construction work, both internally and externally.
- Maintain in-built fire protection systems such as fire rated walls, ceilings and doors.
- Maintain the structural integrity of buildings and services.
- Maintain paint systems, floor coverings, glazed units, joinery and furniture.
- Maintain a wide range of woodworking machinery and power tools.
- Maintain the carpentry stock inventory, and coordinate the reorder of spare parts, materials and equipment.
- Prepare and submit monthly and annual reports.
- Operate a computerised maintenance management system.
